

National Labor Relations Commission

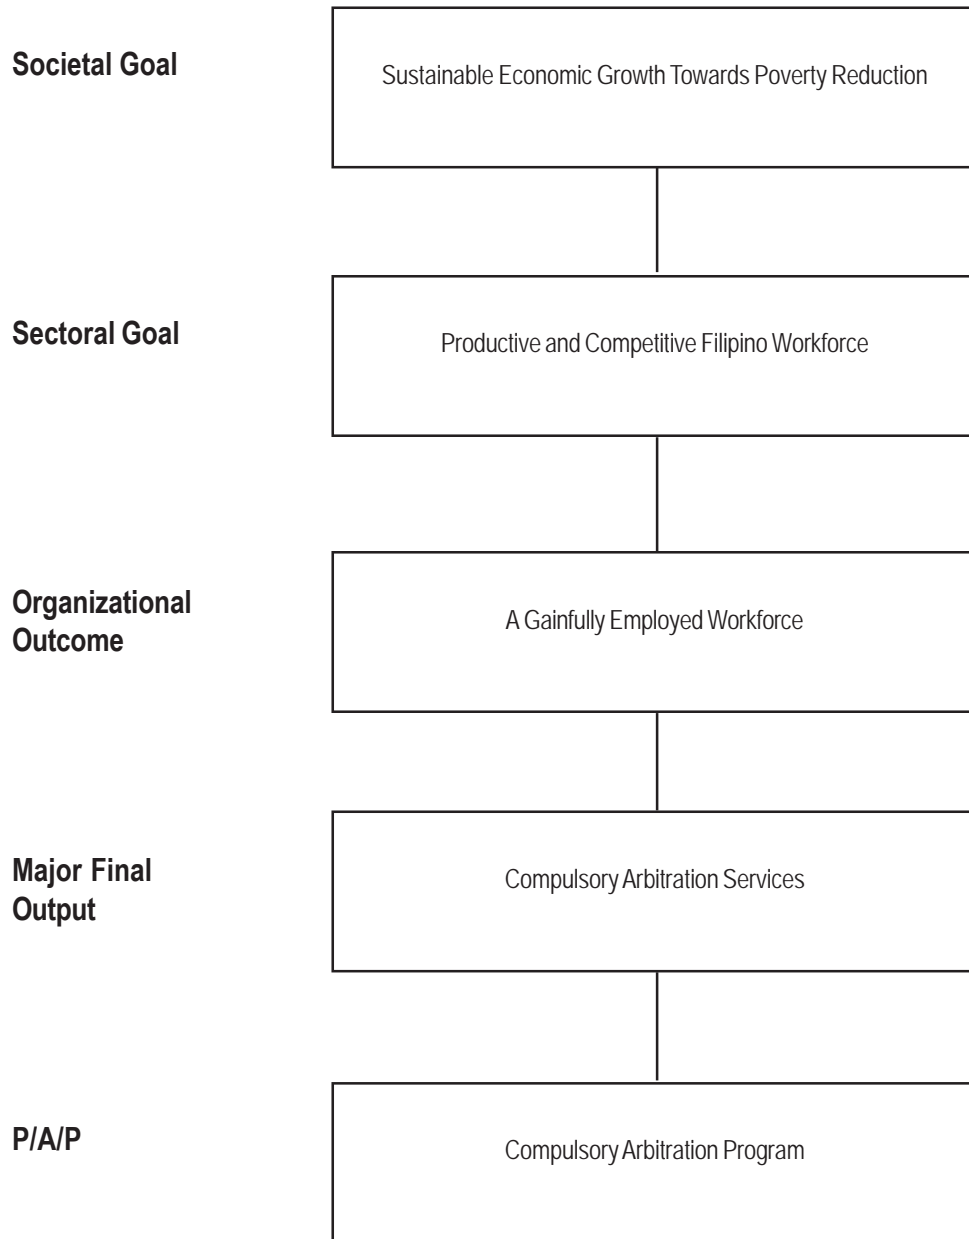

Legal Basis

- Republic Act No. 442 (November 1, 1974) created the National Labor Relations Commission (NLRC) and Regional Arbitration Branches (RABs).
- Republic Act No. 6715 (March 21, 1989) reorganized the NLRC and the RABs.
- Republic Act No. 9347 (August 26, 2006) created three additional divisions in the Commission Proper and provided for the deployment of labor arbiters as reviewers at the RABs.

Mandate

The National Labor Relations Commission (NLRC) is a quasi-judicial body tasked to promote and maintain industrial peace based on social justice by resolving labor and management disputes involving both local and overseas workers through compulsory arbitration and alternative modes of dispute resolution.
