

COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS

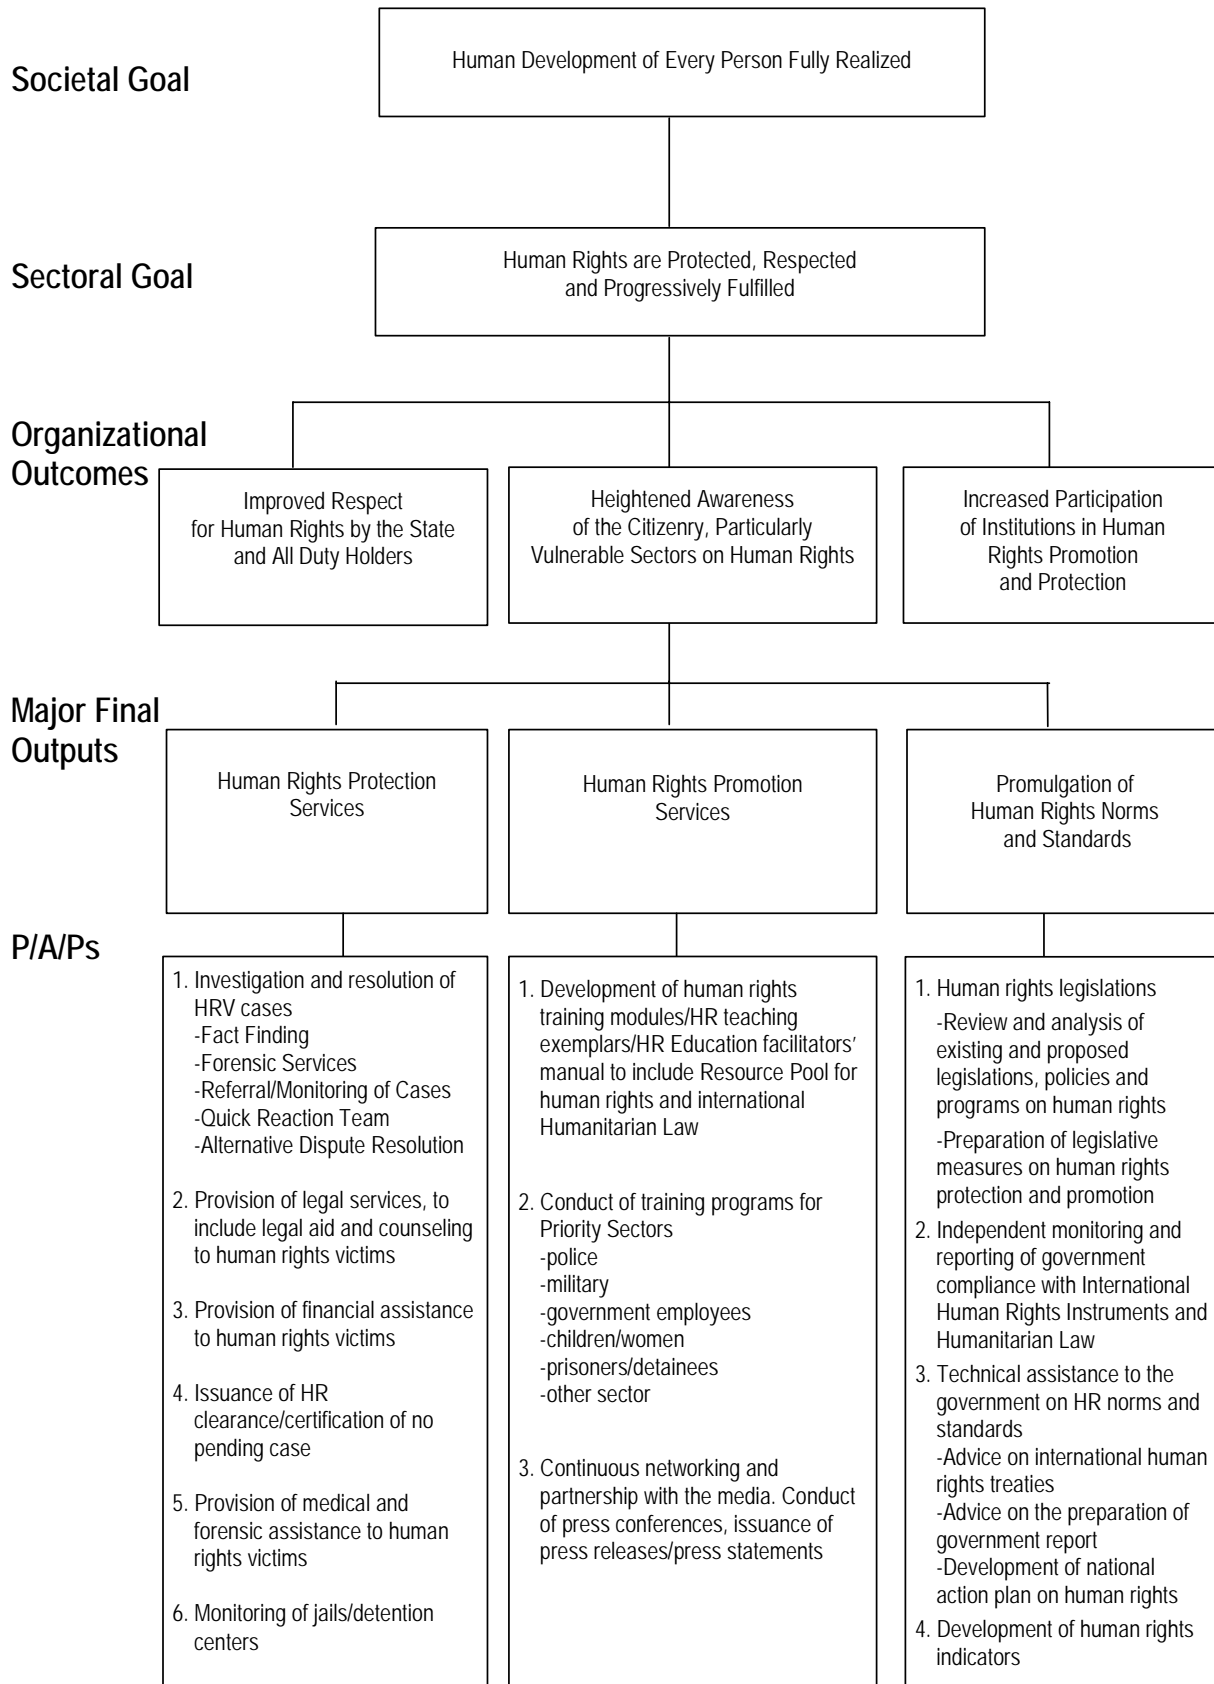

Legal Basis

- The 1987 Constitution of the Philippines (Sec. 17, (1) Article XIII) created an independent office called the Commission on Human Rights (CHR).
- Executive Order No. 163 (May 5, 1987) formally established the CHR as an independent body mandated to promote the protection of, respect for, and enhancement of the people's civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights.

Mandate

The Commission on Human Rights (CHR) is mandated to protect and promote the human rights of all people residing in the Philippines and Filipinos residing abroad, specially the underprivileged and disadvantaged sectors of society, to engage in sustained efforts with organizational integrity and competency in seeking justice, reorient the agents of the State along human rights norms, advise the State on national policies and standards in catalyzing effective and credible partnership and collaboration with national and international organizations; and to advocate and monitor government's compliance with international treaty obligations on human rights.
